

Individual Request for Access to Electronic Protected Health Information

This form allows you to request access to certain of your electronic Protected Health Information (PHI) that Accredo maintains. Specifically, this form allows you to request certain clinical data, such as medication information or clinical notes, reflected in a publication called the United States Core Data for Interoperability (USCDI). This clinical data is referred to in the form as "Patient Data."

Information Requested from Records

Patient Data – USCDI Clinical Data
Date Range Requested: ____/____/____ to ____/____/____

Requested Format

Accredo can provide to you Patient Data that Accredo maintains in certain ways. For your convenience, we have outlined in this form the standard ways that we can provide your Patient Data to you. Some of your Patient Data may be provided in different formats than other Patient Data based on, for example, the technical capabilities of the system(s) in which the Patient Data resides.

Patient Data – USCDI Clinical Data* – Standard Formats:

.JSON .CSV .PDF

*In accordance with applicable law, Accredo will make available clinical data reflected in the United States Core Data for Interoperability (USCDI) that we retain in our system of record in the manner specified by you, unless we are not technically able to do so. For your convenience, we have outlined above the electronic formats that we can standardly use to provide that clinical data.

*Please note that the “JSON” and “CSV” formats are so-called “machine-readable formats” that allow electronic systems to interpret the data. This means that clinical data in a JSON or CSV format may not be presented in a way that is easiest for a patient or other individual to interpret. If you intend to use your electronic PHI for personal uses, then requesting the information in a PDF or other version may be right for you. Please contact us if you have any questions about which format is right for your needs.
